INTERNATIONAL VOLUNTEER CAMPS in Croatia, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Serbia, Italy "I Care for..." 2015

To get to know countries through meeting the people

International volunteer camps, organized by INGO Adriatic GreeNet and UNESCO Club Udine, will give you the opportunity to enjoy unforgettable days full of activities, events and meetings in wonderful "small places", thanks to the cultural and natural values preserved in these areas. These small places, with surrounding areas play an important role as "custodians of our common European Culture". We want to take care of these places and to help their promotion, together with the local communities, because we want to give our small contribution to the care of the world. In addition to the pleasure of working together during the actions of active citizenship which are very useful for the maintenance of cultural or natural heritage, there will be several sightseeing in the surrounding areas, deep substantive meetings with local communities, time devoted to introducing the local partner associations and tasting the local traditional food... So: it will be intense days, certainly unforgettable, useful but...superb!
